About Me

This is my 3rd year as the Pre-K teacher at Giff Hill. I grew up and worked to become a teacher in Massachusetts. My favorite part of Pre-K is helping students to develop their love for reading and exploring the world around them. This year, we will be working toward our goals using multiple learning tools, including books, music, games, and so much more. My purpose as a teacher is to make sure that each and every one of my students feel welcomed, safe, and excited to learn and to be here.
